1. No aircraft were observed at the Dresden-Klotzsche (N 52/F 29) airfield. The weather was rainy and visibility poor. The landing field was, however, dry and in a good condition. Some soldiers wearing black epaulets were observed near the Lufthansa building on the southwestern border of the field. Two local residents said that the field had not been used for a long time.
2. The former air force officer candidate school building was apparently occupied by soldiers of various branches of service, four officers with green service color and soldiers with black and blue epaulets being observed. The stone wall beside the main guardhouse was being repaired. A locomotive pulling two boxcars and one gondola car left the airfield spur track at 3:45 p.m. The gondola car was loaded with German aircraft scrap. Two soldiers wearing black epaulets escorted the shipment.

no air unit is presently stationed at the field. The airfield barracks are probably occupied by an IVD unit, an army unit, and a Soviet Air Force ground unit. The designation and the mission of the air force unit are not known.
